There was a forest where only animals lived. Although the animals live in peace, every animal has his own nature. For example, the monkey was the noisy one, the lion was the brave one, the gazelle was the fast and the fox was the smart. The animals did not like the crow, a black bird, because he was rude and did not like to share his food with others. He even stole food from others. The animals met and decided to teach the crow a lesson. The fox made a plan and went to the crow. He wanted the crow to give him some cheese which was in his mouth but the crow refused. Then the fox asked the crow to sing a song with his beautiful voice. The crow sang and the cheese fell into the fox's mouth. The fox told the crow not to think that (he) is smarter than others.
